Dear Mr. Wells,

I want to take a moment and congratulate you and the faculty at St. Joseph Catholic School on your outstanding academic achievement according to your NWEA test data in language arts and math this past school year.

Your scores placed you in one of the top five highest achieving schools in the Diocese of Lansing in both content areas. Further, you are only one of two schools that did so in both categories. What makes this even more significant is that you were able to achieve tremendous growth with the students over the course of the year. This is a true testament to the hard work and effort put forth by you and the teachers.

Thank you so much for your service to our Lord's children, and I look forward to seeing further progress.

God bless,
